

Project Ideation

Every project starts with an idea. How you develop your idea from its inception to the final realization will decide whether you complete the project or not. A project well begun, is half completed. So let us toss our ideas around and see what sticks and what fails. Use this opportunity to solicit informal feedback from other participants on your ideas. Here are some questions to get started:

- 1. Can you summarize in two sentences the central idea of your project?
- 2. Do you have any examples that you look up to for inspiration to suggest ideas for your project?
- 3. How are the end-users going to benefit from your idea?
- 4. What is the opportunity gap that you are trying to fill with your idea?

Participation is optional

Type your response here...

YZ

+189

193 learners have submitted a response.

